Developing Communication and Oracy Skills for Early Years Children

This course is designed as a guide to developing children's oral communication skills as a foundation for early literacy skills. The course will include a look, specific for 3-, 4- and 5-year olds, at age appropriate expectations in understanding, expressive language and attention skills and ideas regarding the development of these skills.

It will enhance and revisit your knowledge of the process of speech, language and communication in young children. The course will raise awareness of ideas and experiences to support children's development in expressive and receptive language skills.

The course is aimed at all primary school staff but with significant relevance for EYFS and staff in Year 1.
